About This Software

Genesys eServices (formerly Multimedia) 8.0.x provides a set of capabilities for the Customer Interaction Management (CIM) Platform that enable customers to automatically and efficiently distribute non-voice interactions to the optimal resource at the optimal time. The eServices architecture supports these specific CIM Platform media options: Genesys E-mail, Genesys Chat, Genesys SMS, Genesys Web Collaboration, and 3rd Party media.

This CD contains Genesys Knowledge Management. Knowledge Manager, the user interface component of Genesys Knowledge Management, is used to create and manage the knowledge base's category system, standard responses, and content analysis models.

Content Analyzer, an optional enhancement to Knowledge Management, requires a separate license. Content Analyzer uses natural language processing technology. This software analyzes incoming interactions and assigns them to categories of responses in the standard response category system stored in the Universal Contact Server databases. This application also uses a sophisticated technology to learn from specific examples or past response history.

Knowledge Management must be deployed in conjunction with Genesys Interaction Management, which delivers the core capabilities of eServices.
